

Getting the Word Out...

William E. Painter, Jr.

“Healing Fractured Relationships in the 21st Century”
American Association for Marriage and Family Therapy (AAMFT)

William E. Painter, Executive Vice President, Institute for Family Centered Services (IFCS) was a presenter at the 65th Annual Conference of American Association for Marriage and Family Therapy (AAMFT) in Long Beach, CA. The conference theme was “Healing Fractured Relationships in the 21st Century”.

Mr. Painter joined other mental health services professionals and his presentation of “A Strategic Approach to Reunification for Juveniles With Out of Home Placement” offered valuable and practical solutions for successful reunions of a juvenile in an out of home placement. He addressed typical barriers that are encountered and offered practical tools to overcome them. Additionally, his presentation taught fellow therapists how to engage parents in the process. Mr. Painter, a pioneer in the field of training providers of family preservation services, has facilitated over 300 training workshops for public and private agencies.
